

VIOLENT CRIME

How we can help you after a crime

Anyone can be affected by violent crime, and it can be a very frightening and traumatic experience.

Everyone reacts differently to violent crime, and your feelings may change from day to day. The important thing is to be aware that you may be affected in many different ways, both mentally and physically.

We're here to help you in this difficult time. You can call us weeks, months or even years after a crime. We are always here to listen and help.

How we can help

We are an independent charity offering free, confidential support to people affected by crime and traumatic incidents.

You do not have to report a crime to receive support from us. We can help in the following ways:

- Personal support with a specially trained person, in a way that works for you. Speak in confidence, ask questions and get advice and emotional support
- Putting you in touch with other specialist help, services or support
- Advice and support in applying for compensation or financial assistance if you are eligible. (You will need to report the crime to the police in order to apply)

- Practical information and help to make you feel safer and be safer. In some areas, this can be help to secure your home
- Information about reporting to the police, the criminal justice system and courts procedures. If you choose to report a crime, we can accompany and support you to do that
- We know that crime affects the whole family. We offer support to everyone directly affected, and we help parents and carers to support children coping with the impact of crime.

Sexual violence, domestic violence and hate crime

If you have been affected by sexual violence, domestic violence or hate crime, we offer support from experienced and specially trained staff and volunteers.

Diversity matters and we value it

We are committed to supporting the needs of the diverse communities we serve. We can provide interpreters and information in alternative formats. If you have additional needs please let us know so we can put the right support in place.
